I don't mind people going on the radio if they have anything to go on with, but some of them remind me of hidden taxes.

Abie Turk, the Irish shamrock patient in the California Hospital, is convinced there is something to that old song, "Home Sweet Home." Anyway he's home and glad of it. Abie contributed an appendix to the Los Angeles surgeons, went into escrow with the nurses, got a certificate of health title in about ten days, and is greeting his old friends at the Sycamore street place of business.

G. W. Bassett, (not the tenor) sends me a membership list of the Orange County Builders Exchange, but he doesn't say what for. Bassett is the secretary-treasurer. I'm not building a home, so that can't be the reason. Maybe it's so I'll know how to spell all of their names correctly — assuming that he knows. Anyway, I'm pleased to get the list. Seems like I've met most of them some time and some place.

The usual climax of the circus is visible in the back yards, and playgrounds, where athletic equipment is available for the embryonic performances which young America witnessed professionally.
Everything goes along rhythmically and serenely until one of the performers stubs his toe or misses a bar. Then mother finds out what happened. But you can't keep 'em from trying.

The Wright brothers—not the airplane inventors—are entertaining a relative from Lincoln, Neb., who reports that he sent an air-mail letter to Santa Ana and almost arrived as soon as the letter.
He came by bus. There seemed to me to be some discrepancies in the story. Couldn't figure out how Jim Farley's service could be that slow. An airmail letter deposited at Lincoln must come east to go west. It is sent to Omaha via rail, thence to the airport. That gives any other kind of transportation any advantage. What difference does it make anyway? We get places fast enough these days, and sometimes when we are too fast we don't get there.

It required some effort on the part of Percy Gettle to adjust himself to the information that he received Tuesday. However, the messengers pulled a fast one on him before they delivered the news.
Gettle had been associated with the messengers of good news in an investment which returned him some money. The boys made a deal with him that if he was lucky they were to participate to the extent of a Coca-Cola, or sumptuous.
Gettle won but he didn't find it out until the high-finance men made their agreement.

Refreshing to hear an educator as able as Dr. Earl Cranston, of Redlands University, summarize foreign affairs so clearly, and arrive at such a heartening conclusion that ultimately the world would return to democracy, and a better understanding. With the unrest and intrigue and selfish purpose of individuals and nations now prevalent, it takes a lot of faith to visualize the conclusion of Dr. Cranston. He probably argues at his deductions on the

FDR Refutes 'Dictator' Charges

BUREAU BILL FOES HIT IN LETTER

'Bogies Under Bed'
Told By Executive

WARM SPRINGS, Ga. (AP)—
President Roosevelt, charging organized opponents of his government reorganization program had "planted bogies" under every bed," asserted in a letter made public today he had "no inclination to be a dictator." The letter, addressed to an unnamed friend under date of March 29, urged approval of the measure "in its present form" and replied to charges that the legislation would make him a dictator by asserting:

"As you well know, I am as much opposed to an American dictatorship as you are, for three simple reasons:

"(a) I have no inclination to be a dictator.

"(b) I have none of the qualifications which would make me a successful dictator.

"(c) I have too much historical background and too much knowledge of existing dictatorships to make me desire any form of dictatorship for a democracy-like the United States of America."

The letter was made public by Secretary Marvin McIntyre shortly before 1 a. m. (CST). There was no explanation for the late release except that the President made up his mind to issue it be-

U. S. TO RAISE SHIP TONNAGE

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The United States formally notified Great Britain and France today of this country's intention to build battleships larger than 35,000 tons.

Secretary Hull sent notes to this effect to the British and French embassies and the Canadian legation.

The text of the notes will be made public tomorrow.

The United States expects a British note of the same character during the day.

A French note also is awaited
but this, an informed source said, will state France's intention to abide by the 35,000-ton limit.

The U. S. note does not propose a new tonnage limit for super-dreadnaughts.

Flyers Seek Missing Plane

shuttled between here and March

Tree Cutter Hurt As Cypress Topples

Pinned to the earth when a cypress tree he was cutting toppled over on him, Pearl Dady, 53, route 2, box 388, was taken to Orange county hospital for emergency treatment last night.

Dady and a relative, Allen Taylor, living at the same address, were cutting out a windbreak hedge on the Clarence Nilsson ranch on Red Hill road. The accident was reported to the sheriff's office by Mrs. Howard Timmons, and deputy sheriffs helped move Dady to the hospital.

Speaker Jones In State Race

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—William Moseley Jones, speaker of the assembly, today went seeking the Democratic nomination for attorney general on a platform to "clean out gangsters, racketeers and hoodlums who now infest our state and corrupt our government."

Jones, who has conducted a one-man probe into Los Angeles vice conditions, said he would rely on popular subscriptions for his campaign fund.

Mexicali Faces Gas Shortage

CALEXICO. (AP)—In a move to conserve their fast dwindling gasoline supplies for emergency use, all gasoline service stations in Mexicali, Mex., across the border from this community, were closed today by order of Gov. Rodolfo Sanchez Taboada.

The shortage of gasoline in Mexicali was blamed upon the foreign exchange upset resulting from the Mexican government's expropriation of foreign oil holdings in that country.

RUSH AID TO 250 INJURED BY TWISTERS

Homes Demolished as Storms Continue

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Splintered homes in the wake of tornadoes that struck five Midwestern states yielded more bodies today and raised the death total to 34 persons. Nearly 250 were injured, hundreds were homeless, and unofficial estimates placed the damage at more than $1,000,000.

The twisting storms, laden with hail and torrential rain, struck hardest in central Illinois, where at least 12 were known dead. Next hardest hit was southeastern Kansas, where seven, including three children, were killed.

The Kansas storm struck about noon yesterday. It started in northeastern Oklahoma; later moved into southwestern Missouri.
Seven were known dead in Missouri storms.

About sundown what apparently was a separate storm twisted across Illinois from the southeast, dipping to earth in the Pekin area.
Rushville and Astoria also were hard hit.

Another twister lashed at Heber Springs, Ark., killing four persons.
Then it swung up through Southeastern Missouri, accounting for three of Missouri's dead at Neiley-ville. An earlier Arkansas blow had killed a woman at Conway.

Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Baird, both about 55, were killed when wind demolished their home near Minturn, Ark., last night.

The action was brought by Huston H. Marrs of Denver, and other supporters of the Townsend plan.
The suit asked a total of $15-000,000 actual damages from all defendants and $500,000 punitive damages from each of them.

The bill accused Robert E. Clements of Los Angeles, a defendant and former officer of the movement, or originating a plan to "wreck" the pension organization in 1936.

Among the defendants were John S. McGroarty of California, and several former associates of Townsend.

Admiral Siland's Home Is 'Jimmied'

Attempted burglary of the home of Admiral Albert Siland was discovered last night at Bal-

Haynes said the burglar apparently had tried to jimmy a door with a chisel, but had failed to gain entrance.

Bud Marshall Leaves for Clinic

Bud Marshall of Laguna (above) is shown as friends lifted him aboard a train in Santa Ana last night as he started his trip to a Missouri clinic where physicians will attempt to relieve him of a paralysis which has kept him in bed for two years. Bud was kidnaped by two young gunmen in his taxi, shot in the back and later left to die at the side of the road. Expenses for his trip were raised by popular subscription in Laguna.

Girl Death Hinted In Mystery Call

was being checked this afternoon

Oil Act May Aid U.S. Industries

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The expropriation of American and British oil properties by Mexico, Secretary Ickes said today, might reduce imports of Mexican oil enough to ease off accumulated stocks now depressing the market in this country.

"We normally received large oil supplies from Mexico," he told his press conference, "and if the Cardenas government succeeds in finding European or other markets for all the oil formerly taken out by American and British companies, our own wells may be called upon for greater production."

"This would be a boon, he said, to the domestic market."

Will J. Lindsay Takes Final Load of Mail; 32 Years on Job

Will J. Lindsay took his final load of letters and packages out of the Santa Ana postoffice this morning, completing 32 years of continuous service as a carrier of the United States mails. Lindsay has gone the rounds on his rural route some 10,000 times. Before he departed from the postal headquarters this morning, approximately 30 fellow-employees presented him with a secretary's desk in appreciation of his work.
Postmaster Frank Harwood was master of ceremonies. Harwood praised the efficient service Lindsay had rendered.

Lindsay started work with the postal service here at the age of 31 in the year 1906. He was in charge of the route to the Garden Grove area and used a horse and buggy. That was in the day before the present West Seventeenth street bridge, and during rainy weather it was a problem to get the mail across the river. One of his horses sank deep in the sand in the river bed during one storm.

'OLD GUARD' SCORED BY ATTORNEYS

Case Goes to Jury
This Afternoon

Charges that the grand jury's ouster case against Supervisor N. E. West were political were hurled today as prosecution and defense began arguments to the jury in superior court. The jury was to get the case in mid-afternoon.

"This is the only county in the state where a case of this kind could come up!" shouted Edgar Hervey, peppery San Diego defense counsel, beginning his argument just before noon recess. "I've heard a lot in this case about the 'old guard,' and I think it has a very definite meaning in this county."

West is accused of two counts of misconduct in office, in as-sertedly soliciting $1200 from two men.

Hervey's argument followed that of B. Z. McKinney of Santa Ana, co-counsel in West's defense, and opening argument for the prosecution by Asst. Dist. Atty. Preston Turner.

Dist. Atty. W. F. Menton was scheduled to follow Hervey with the prosecution's closing argument, followed by instructions from Judge L. N. Turentine of San Diego, presiding, before the jury retires.

Arguments began at 10:10
a. m., following brief redirect examination of West and defense testimony by Supervisor John Mitchell, Mrs. West and Mrs. Mabel E. McCarter.

Turner contended West's asserted solicitation of $1000 from A. H.
Fanning of Laguna Beach—in connection with property owners' contributions toward wiping out the debt of the Broadway improvement district—was certainly under color of his official position.

"That," said Turner, "is the most logical conclusion."

He also hit defense attacks on testimony of E. K. Wood of Riverside, who says West solicited a $200 bribe from him. "If he were planning to concoct a story to implicate Mr. West," asked Turner,
"do you think he would wait until

NEW PARTY FOR MEXICO

MEXICO CITY. (AP)—A new "party of the revolution" came into being today to carry on the nation's Mexico for Mexicans" program, looking toward a society without classes in a socialist state.

The new party of laborers, farmers and soldiers is an intensified government party, taking over the organization of President Cardenas' former national revolutionary party. Barba Gonzalez, head of the old party, was named president of the new.

Its proposed platform carries a call for "progressive nationalization of big industry" (like expropriation of the $400,000,000 foreign-owned oil industry).

The taking over of the oil industry from 17 American, British and Netherlands owners brought vigorous United States representations. Today there were indications of a possible split in Cardenas' hitherto solid congressional support.

SECOND U. S. BOMBER CRASHES IN HAWAIIAN WAR GAMES

No Word From Missing Ship as Navy Spurs Search; Five Killed in First Crash

HONOLULU, (AP)—The navy sent 240 fighting planes into the air and dispatched numerous surface vessels to the northwest of Oahu island today, in a gigantic search for six blue-jacket fliers who vanished last night in an old-style bombing plane. At the same time it became known that eight sailors had been injured, three seriously, and four boats had been wrecked in the landing of 1400 men at Lahaina Roads in connection with the current Pacific maneuvers.

'NO DICTATOR' SAYS FDR

fore midnight and it required almost two hours to prepare it for the press.

The President made his decision while resting from a 120-mile motor trip to and from Fort Benning late yesterday to inspect the troops and equipment of the noted infantry post. Later today he planned to lunch with the officers at the Marine camp here and then pay a visit to a resettlement project in Pine Mountain valley.

The name of the President's correspondent regarding reorganization was withheld because McIntyre said in a prefatory statement "he did not write for publicity purposes."

HITS TELEGRAMS

The letter was dated the same day the President asserted at a press conference that senate passage of the Reorganization bill proved that body "cannot be purchased by organized interests based on direct misrepresentation."

In the communication today he recalled that when he proposed the legislation over a year ago all parties and factions agreed on the need of such a measure, but that a year later "organized interests" had manufactured partisan and political opposition to any Reorganization had created a political issue—created it deliberately out of the whole cloth.

As examples of the "bogies" he contended had been planted by the opposition he said it had been charged that the army engineer corps was to be abolished "in spite of the fact" that congress alone could determine who will do river and harbor work, and that the forestry service was to be "handed over" to the "big game" hunters, the best friend forestry ever had in the United States.

CITES CHARGES

He mentioned other like charges and added: "I cite these merely as examples of a score of equally silly nightmares conjured up at the instigation either of those who would restore the government to those who owned it between 1921 and 1933, or those who for one reason or another seek deliberately to wreck the present administration of the government of the United States."

Referring to the bill's provision making executive orders on bureau shifting subject to disapproval by congressional "joint" resolution within 60 days, the President said if such a resolution were passed he would "in the overwhelming majority of cases go along with carefully considered congressional action."

"I can think of no cases where the President would not gladly yield to a clear expression of congressional opinion."

Dodge to Replace Raddant as Head Of Santa Ana Loan

Significant changes in management of two Orange county financial institutions were disclosed today with the announcement that Ray C. Raddant, secretary-manager of the First Federal Savings and Loan association, has been named vice president and manager of the First National Trust and Savings bank of Fullerton, and that Charles A. Dodge of Los Angeles will replace Raddant in the Santa Ana institution.

Raddant will take over active management of the Fullerton bank, with President E. E. Beazley remaining in charge but taking a less active part.

The First Federal Savings and Loan association here, managed by Raddant since 1934, is moving to a new location in the Masonic temple at Fifth and Sycamore streets, it was announced.

Raddant has been in Orange county since 1921, when he was affiliated with the old Farmers and Merchants bank of Fullerton. In 1928 he was transferred to Santa Ana as assistant manager of the Bank of America branch here, later being transferred to Orange as manager of that Bank of America branch. He returned to Santa Ana as manager of the bank in 1932 and left it a year later.

Dodge, an employee of the Pacific States Savings and Loan company for the past five years has served as special deputy of the state building and loan commissioner and has been affiliated with the Los Angeles county tax assessor's office.

dismissal, made on grounds "the evidence does not make out a prima facie case."

West took the stand in his own behalf, and under examination by Hervey denied he had ever demanded from anyone payment for voting as a supervisor or in an official capacity.

The defendant maintained he had $217.50 coming from Wood in 1937 as real estate commission, although he was paid $187.50 on a lower sales price, and contended his demands of Wood and of title company officials were for that commission, not for anything else.

HARVARD VS. CONGRESS

The supervisor's testimony that he never had discussed with Wood nor contemplated a trip to Harvard in 1936 was attacked on cross-examination by Turner, when he asked West if he had not obtained a 20-day leave of absence in June, 1936, for that purpose. West answered:

"I think that is correct . . . but I decided to run for congress instead."

Referring to Wood's testimony that West called him from the University club, Los Angeles, and made an appointment at which Wood paid the supervisor $140 in currency, Turner asked West if he ever had met Wood after such a call.

DIDN'T REMEMBER

"I don't recall," answered West. "I couldn't be definite; I don't think so; I don't remember."

Hervey made almost continuous objections to West's testimony on cross-examination.

West finally said, under Turner's questioning:

"I believe now I did mention that (trip East) to Mr. Wood after the primaries were over; I had planned to take my nephew back to Harvard."

L. F. Mallow, mayor of Laguna Beach, was called to show Wood had been engaged by the Laguna city council to work on liquidation of the district and had been given $250 for expenses, but attorneys stipulated to those matters and Mallow did not testify.

but the mail went through.

Storms interrupted the service to his patrons only 7 days during the 32 years, one of them being during the March 3 deluge of this year. The other delay occurred during the big flood of 1916, Lindsay took only one leave of absence during his service.

In 1916 he took over the route he followed for the last time yesterday. Today there are 600 boxes on the itinerary and it covers 50 miles.

Since 1904 Lindsay has employed Ford automobiles for making the rounds. He has used nearly every model Henry manufactured since, and today drives a V-8.

Lindsay retired this week under the optional pension plan. He does not intend to take life easy, however, for he has 30 acres of oranges to which he will devote his entire time.

Mail carrying sort of runs in the family at the Lindsay home. His wife was for 25 years a substitute carrier in Santa Ana, and has worked on every rural route out of the local office. On one particular occasion she carried mail on two routes in a single day's time.

Lee Woods. D. H. Tibbals conducted the criticism by interviews with Walter Ferris, H. O. Ensign, W. H. Jolivet, Daniel K. Brown and Sam Long. Guests were as follows: T. P. Douglass, George Perkins, A. W. Goddard and Paul Patten.

OIL PARTNERS IN SETTLEMENT

The superior court today was asked to settle a dispute among three partners in an oil drilling concern regarding their respective shares of investment in a trust formed two years ago to govern the concern.

Morris Cain, Santa Ana attorney and trustee of the property for the partners—W. D. McKay, Emil N. Duxsen and Dr. L. A. Frasher—filed suit to settle the dispute. Duxsen and McKay allegedly invested $2000 each and Dr. Frasher invested $100, according to the petition.

The trust was formed in 1936 after E. S. Brooks, Long Beach, had sold the oil rig and equipment to Frank Partridge, who assigned it in trust to Cain for the benefit of three investors, who planned to reconduct the equipment.

McKay, who took over operation of the outfit and marketed the oil, now claims, according to Cain, equitable adjustments in a world which of necessity must eventually be internationally peaceful.

Work has taken the place of water in the flood districts, and it won't be long now before all evidence of the storm will have disappeared. In the record book we will have the day and date, but physical forces will remove the elemental evidence. What a blessing is work.

Diminutive physiques rebuilt, according to a golf devotee, who suggests that if I would spend a few afternoons at the country club a new man could be made out of what now is. But he didn't tell me who would write a column of copy for me seven days out of the week, while nature was changing old Cassius into an Adonis.

Ripley, come and get him. Santa Ana has a citizen who for the first time in his life saw a circus performance Tuesday. The only thing I don't like about this item is that it happens in a Santa Ana citizen. (See why wish that on us. And he didn't like the circus. Can you beat it?)

There is something wrong with the economic system and also the economic thought, when business is dull and strikes impose further burdens. The cause and responsibility is another thing. That's for the concerned on both sides to find out and arrive at an equitable settlement. And it seems like the solution is hard to discover.

VETS URGED TO TAKE INTEREST IN CHURCH, CIVIC AFFAIRS

SQUIRES PLEAS BETTERMENT OF CONDITIONS

Subversive Forces Get Rap From Commander

All veterans are urged to take particular interest in the affairs of their respective communities, by associating themselves with the churches, service clubs, and assume leadership in all movements for the betterment of conditions in their city, state and nation, National Commander Scott P. Squires, of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, of the United States, said in an address to about 750 members of the organization, their wives and friends at the Royal Palms hotel in Los Angeles, last night at the institution of Civic Center post.

He stressed the program of his organization whose objectives are: Jobs or pensions for veterans. Pensions for widows and children of veterans.

A strong universal service law. Adequate rearmament, to insure the maintenance of peace at home. Elimination of all subversive forces and suppression of their activities in the United States.

He pointed to what is happening in Spain and China, and has taken place in Ethiopia and Austria, and said we must exert all our influence to stamp out all communism, facism and nazism in this country.

The best way to accomplish this, in his estimation, is to teach the youth of our land, the future mothers and fathers of America's leaders, that pure Americanism is, and the only ism we want here.

About fifteen members of the V. F. W. from Orange county were in attendance, being Commanded James Sullivan and Mrs. Sullivan of Santa Ana, H. J. Clayton, Harold McCleary, Ralph Rowe, John Lewis, John Davis and Mrs. Davis, George Hubbard and Mrs. Hubbard, Glenn D. Hendrickson and Mrs. Hendrickson, Charles E. Hyatt and Mrs. Hyatt from Los Angeles.

Commander Squires, Harold Niemann, G. L. Tart and Tony Dello of Fullerton.

Tomorrow night occurs the regular meeting of Kellogg post, at which time the election of officers for the ensuing year will be held.

Farmers Plan Better Housing For Laborers

Adequate flood control and water storage, properly directed crop diversion programs and better housing and care of seasonal farm labor are recommended by farm groups throughout the state, according to Farm Advisor H. E. Wahlberg, who has on file in his office reports of economic conferences held recently in other counties.

Kern county, Wahlberg points out, advocates a cautious increase in livestock production. Fresno county is considering a possible increase in the number of school buildings for children of seasonal workers. Kings county farmers believe sugar beet production might well be increased and a sugar beet factory opened there.

Growers at Santa Barbara county recommended farm laborers be given an opportunity to organize. Contra Costa county growers believe farms may be too large as well as too small and owners should be advised of the limitations of the land they desire. There is room in San Joaquin county for a limited number of part-time farmers, who could round out their living in other pursuits. Napa county favors a national campaign to increase prune sales.

40 Million Sticks Of Dynamite Blast Water to Santa Ana

Statistics show that more than 40 million sticks of dynamite have already been used in the construction of the 392-mile Metropolitan aqueduct, according to tabulations received here.

Four hundred fifty carloads, or 20,000,000 pounds, of dynamite thus far have been used in blasting a way for the hundreds of miles of aqueduct structures already completed. Now in its sixth year of construction, the building of the giant aqueduct has consumed 115,000 freight carloads of all types of materials.

Crossing the state of California, the Metropolitan aqueduct will carry a billion gallons of water a day from the Colorado river to Southern California's coastal plain. Thirteen cities will share in the benefits. Los Angeles, Santa Ana, Anaheim, Beverly Hills, Burbank, Compton, Fullerton, Long Beach, Pasadena, San Marino, Santa Monica and Torrance.

More than 33,000 citizens from these cities have been employed in the construction of the aqueduct.

MAN ADMITS HE SHOT SELF IN WILD CAR RIDE

His mysterious ride through Santa Ana written off as an attempted suicide that may or may not have failed, Leland Plavan, 37-year-old Greenville man lay critically wounded in St. Joseph hospital today.

He was rushed to the hospital yesterday afternoon, suffering from what he told officers were self-inflicted gunshot wounds. The shots were fired shortly before 2 p. m., and the wounded man drove into Greenville service station a moment later, where Rex England and Alex Steine reportedly jumped into the car and drove him toward the hospital.

At Fourth and Main streets they asked Police Patrolman Harry Pritchard for directions to the hospital, then speeded on before the officer could climb aboard.

Plavan, conscious, told investigating officers he had fired the shots in a suicide attempt. He was believed today to have an even chance to recover.

COMPANY PUTS BUS CHANGES UP TO PUBLIC

The Santa Ana bus service wants to know if local residents will support a proposed, changed route, bounded by West Washington on the north, Louise on the West, North Main on the east and Fourth and Eighth streets on the south.

The round could be made in 15 minutes, and buses would leave Fourth and Main streets eight and 38 minutes after the hour between 7 a. m. and 6 p. m.

In the questionnaire, being sent to prospective patrons, the bus company points out it can save residents the trouble of parking their own cars and that a bus service enhances property values by thousands of dollars near the areas served.

The route proposed is as follows: starting at Fourth and Main streets, the coaches would travel west on Fourth to North Ross up Ross to Tenth, down Fremont to Eighth, along Eighth to Louise, and up Louise to West Washington, then east on Washington to Main and south on Main to the starting point.

If sufficient interest is shown in the proposed schedule, the company will ask permission for service changes to make the new route possible.

Credit Claude (Santa Fe) Lindsay for the best wisecrack of the evening at the Associated Chambers of Commerce meeting in Santa Ana Tuesday night.

Seems Frank Rosapaw is feeling braggish about his town of Placentia getting a new street-widening project. Frank invited the Associated to meet there in May to see how lovely the main street will meet.

Whereupon Lindsay arose solemnly and asked Frank to tell everyone the name of the street. (It's Santa Fe.)

Frank, however, crossed up the railroad man considerably. Seems as if folks have been saying mean things about the "w-o-o, w-o-o" whistle on Lindsay's new streamliner.

So he told Lindsay and the waiting audience Placentia's main street was called "Fish-Horn Alley."

I'd wonder what action the Placentia chamber of commerce would take upon hearing such a remark—except for the fact that Frank's the president!

Harry May, Fullerton's poetic chamber of commerce secretary and also recorder for the associated group, went patting on the back so many times last night that I'll bet he's still aching.

However, I'd like to ask Harry a question.

Always, when he reads his minutes of the last meeting, he calls it the "regular monthly meeting." In the newspaper business, I was taught that if it was a monthly meeting, it couldn't be anything else but regular, and that either one word or the other was superfluous.

However, his minutes were swell and I agreed with President Jack Crill when he said Harry is one of the best recording secretaries in this part of the country.

Speaking of Harries, there were a couple of 'em caused an end of merriment the other night.

Harry Welsh and Harry Welch. Harry No. 1 is from Fullerton—Edison company manager and mixer in civic affairs.

Harry No. 2 is from Newport-Balboa. Chamber of commerce secretary and the harbor's best booster.

They sat together, across the table from a visitor.

Harry No. 1 arose, offered his hand to the visitor and said, "My name's Harry."

Then Harry No. 2 arose, bowed deeply and reiterated, "My name's Harry Welch."

Bewildered of the visitor can well be imagined.

Think the Associated's got something in selection of speakers to welcome and give response at meetings.

Last night it was Mayor Fred Rowland as welcome and Vic Loly of Anaheim as responder.

Hizzoner is one of the quickest and best welcome in the history of the chamber. He said "come again" and sat down. Then Vic responded with equal brevity, allowing hungry delegates to go ahead with their apple pie, which was good apple pie.

They've been wondering what's the matter with the Associated—and I think last night's meeting was an illustration of at least one part of the trouble. Meeting sounded, for awhile, more like a debating society's annual meeting, rather than a booster body!

That Huntington Beach delegation was late again!

Sol White, Judge Patten and W. J. Bristol almost missed their supper. Anyway, Bill Gallienne and Mayor Willis Warner were there in time to get the first course!

Hurried conversation with Monte Jackson, veteran Fullerton fireman, Monte was recalling stories worked together on let's see, could it be 13 years ago? Guess me'n Monte are getting along in years!

Also entered the judge's chambers in Fullerton, sort of in fear and trembling, but a cheery hail from Constable Walker Skillman made me feel better. Skilly wasn't mad or anything, just wanted to know how's fishing.

And Judge Spence, in between judicial investigations of traffic offenders and the like, managed to take time out to ask how Skilly was getting along.

Also saw Chief of Police Jim Pearson, who didn't act a bit like a man running for sheriff. He still welcomes visitors in his office cubbyhole—in fact, Billy Hale, former mayor and maybe again a councilman after next election, was chewing the fat when I poked my head in the door.

TOWNSEND NEWS, VIEWS

By WALTER R. ROBB

(This column deals with Townsend news and views. Any opinions which are expressed herein are not necessarily those of The Journal.)

Townsendites will be interested in the following article which recently appeared in The Emancipator magazine published in Chicago, because H. R. 4199, the Townsend bill which the ways and means committee refuses to release for debate on the floors of congress makes provision for the paying off of the national debt through the use of the 2 per cent transaction tax. The article follows:

"FACTS AND FIGURES"
"Debts are being piled up so unconscionably by Washington and the figures have become so bewildering that it is impossible for the average taxpayer to grasp the situation. Perhaps a few comparative statements will do something to illumine the gravity of it all:
"Suppose the United States could corral all the gold in the world with the idea of using it to wipe out our present public debt? Would it be enough? No! It would fall short by $13,500,000,000!"

"All the gold in the United States would not take care of governmental spending for two years."
"All the gold mined in the world in one year would keep our administration going for less than two months."
"If every one of the 45,000,000 savings depositors in this country were to contribute their savings to wipe out the public debt, $13,000,000,000 would remain unpaid."
"If every family in the land were called upon to pay an equal share of what the government owes, each would have to fork up $1172. This is more than many bread winners earn in a whole year."

"All America's money in circulation—$6,294,000,000—wouldn't take care of governmental expenditures for more than 11 months."
"If on Jan. 1 of 1938, all the stocks listed on the New York Stock exchange had been sold and the money turned over to the treasury department to pay off the public debt, only a little more than $1,000,000,000 would have been left."

There is plenty of argument represented in the comparisons given, why the Townsend plan should be adopted as national law, as then the nation would become capable of meeting its current obligations, including annuities for the aged and also gradually retire the public debt.

The Buena Park club will be entertained at 7:30 tonight by the play "The Peppercorn Family from Grasshopper Run," put on by a cast from Santa Ana directed by Mrs. Lillian Rockwell, author of the play. The production will be given in the Woman's clubhouse at Eleventh and Grand streets.

Fullerton Union High School Seniors' Drama Is 'New Fires'

FULLERTON.—The cast of characters for "New Fires," the senior class play of the Fullerton Union High school, all have appeared in other productions, and the presentations Thursday afternoon and Friday night are expected to draw large crowds. According to Hal Hevener, in charge of promotion, ticket sales are going much better than expected and few seats are to be left for the Friday night performance by tonight.

"New Fires" has been presented, professionally, with marked success. The tickets for the Thursday performance are to be 15 cents and this is chiefly a performance for students. Tickets for Friday night are 25 cents and 35 cents, unreserved and reserved seats.

Harold Walberg's orchestra will cooperate with the drama classes in caring for the prelude and interludes of music.

The play is set in the homestead areas of Missouri, and the stage settings are to be antiques of note. The characterizations include Marilyn Hart as Lucinda Andres. She has been presented in "Christmas Carol" by Dickens; and as Ginny Beaton in "So Wonderful," presented by the school at the Pasadena tournament this year.

Wanda Stedman, who is to play Suzanne Toler, also appeared in the two plays Miss Hart appeared in.

Kendall Neissess appeared as Charley in "Charley's Aunt," and will play Sid Sperry in this production. Bob Gobar, who will play "Jerry" appeared in "Christmas Carol" and is handling the comedy character for this play.

Does home need a "face lifting"?

Sometimes homes, like people, are taken for granted and signs of weariness go unnoticed. Homes, too, need beauty treatments. They come out of them renewed, refreshed, stimulating once more to all who meet them.

Early Spring is the time to plan the "face lifting" of the rooms in which you live. Carefully planned, a little money now can go far. Fortunately, authentic news of the latest, the best designed, the most economical in home furnishings and accessories is printed for you day after day on these pages. National manufacturer and local merchant advertise to help you.

Perhaps slip covers on davenport and wing chair will make faithful but a little weary pieces look like new. Perhaps summer draperies will make your living-room so fresh and gay that you yourself will hardly know it. A new rug may be the prescription that your home needs. A new lamp can light more than a corner—it can shine into the hearts of all who see it. Glassware, a new table, porch furniture, all can enter into your home's face lifting.

Look about your home as if you had never seen it—and follow the advertising on these pages!

Fullerton Favored Over Don Nine

J. C. BASEBALL SKED OPENS TOMORROW

DeVolder Opposes McClure on Mound

Jumping the gun on their rivals, Santa Ana and Fullerton Junior college baseball clubs hook up at Amerigo park, Fullerton, at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in their Eastern conference opener. Chaffey plays at Riverside and Pomona tangles with Citrus at Azusa Saturday afternoon in conference games. Champions of the circuit last year, Coach Art (Lucky) Nunn's Hornets are favored to hang up another title with "Bus" DeVolder as first-string gunner for Fullerton.

The stocky left-hander will oppose the Dons tomorrow, and judging from his pre-season hurling, will be in top shape for the six-game grind. Jack McClure will open on the mound for Coach Blanchard Beatty's Santa Ana nine. Art Nieblas, slugging outfielder, will be ready for relief service.

Although conceding only a slight chance of topping the Fullerton club, Santa Ana, with its hard-hitting outfield trio of Nieblas, Charles Stafford and Art Heinlein, should give DeVolder trouble. With better than fair chucking, the Dons should be a dangerous contender.

EASTERN CONFERENCE SCHEDULE
April 1—Santa Ana at Fullerton, Chaffey at Riverside, Pomona at Citrus, San Bernardino bye.
April 8 or 9—Chaffey at Citrus, Santa Ana, San Bernardino at Pomona, Fullerton, Riverside bye.
April 22 or 23—Santa Ana at San Bernardino, Fullerton at Chaffey, Riverside at Citrus, Pomona bye.

S. A. FISHERMAN LANDS 35-POUND HALIBUT

It was a fishing yarn to end all fishing yarns that R. G. Gould, Santa Ana business man, told me last summer, with a hair-raising if not true account of a giant tuna that played havoc with an Alaskan fishery. The fish "story" won him first prize in a national contest.

Fishing yarn spinner that he is, Gould nevertheless can catch fish. So can his partner in the Remington Rand typewriter company, C. G. Donnelly.

Gould, who landed a 112-pound bass last year off Newport-Balboa, was with his business associate when Donnelly brought in a 35-pound halibut—largest of the season—off Darrel King's boat in waters near Laguna yesterday.

It topped a day's catch of eight bass and another smaller halibut for the two Santa Anans.

I saw the fish—it was a beauty. When a fish market proprietor saw the 35-pounder at Newport, he promptly took a 15-pound halibut, which set an early-season record, out of his window with a remark, "That puts my fish to shame."

"I'm glad this is women's free night at the Orange County Athletic club," remarked Wrestler Marshall Carter. "There will be a lot of women out there to help Bob Montgomery cry when I get through with him."

Carter, it seems, is loked no little by the "rags" deal he received last week from Referee Herb Stegman, who awarded "Tarzan" Montgomery a "rolling" fall that decided the match. It looked like a one instead of the necessary three-count. The boxer, however, and Carter himself, staged a "sit-down" strike, remaining in the ring for five minutes challenging Montgomery to return—which he didn't, of course.

It's my prediction that Montgomery gets his ears pinned back tonight.

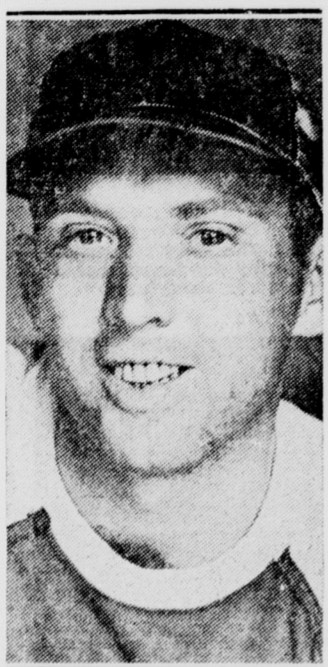

Introducing Huntington Beach's new coach and utility player—Liston (Memphy) Hill, 37 pilot of Orange's youthful Cubs!

Hill, who grew up in a uniform with Santa Ana's Stars when they played nightball in the northwest end of the Municipal bowl before upwards of 35,000 fans, replaces Coach Ned Brown, who will not be with the Oilers this year.

As Napoleon Joe Rodgers' right-hand man, Hill will "fill in" at shortstop, but will be seen more often on the coaching lines.

"I always have been sweet on this boy," Rodgers said today, in making the announcement. "I am glad to get him because he will add color to my team."

"I can't understand why certain teams, needing a man of Hill's ability, let him run around loose. I wonder — and should, too—why some teams don't get ahead better than they do."

LISTON (MEMPHY) HILL Gets Break With Oilers

The Oilers, out to regain the National Nightball league championship they lost to Anaheim's rejuvenated Valencia last summer, will report for spring training Tuesday night, play the Dash Independents of Long Beach at Huntington Beach's newly-lighted park a week from tomorrow night.

Reporting to Huntington Beach will be the newly-acquired battery of Venn Botts and Glenn Kelley from San Bernardino; and Bob Smith, lb; Frank (Chico) Sabello, p; Elwyn (Fuzzy) Errington, p; Henry (Hon) Thier, 2b; George Murray, cf; Francis Conrad, ss; Orville (Orr) Schuchardt, cf; Alvin Reboin, c; Pete Osborn, rf; and the club's official masterminds, Rodgers and Hill.

Jimmie Wilkins, former Santa pitching ace, and son of Mr. and Mrs. James Wilkins, sr., of Santa Ana, has arrived "safe and sound" at the Boston Red Sox "farm" in Little Rock, Ark., where he will remain another two weeks before joining the Red Sox' minor league club at Clarksdale, Miss. Jimmie's kid brother, Tommy Wilkins, is No. 1 hurler for Santa Ana High school.

ADAIR PRESSES RUSSO FOR CALIENTE JOCKEY HONORS

AGUA CALIENTE RACE-TRACK—Raymond Adair, the apprentice rider who launched his turf career at this track less than three months ago, is making a strong bid for the leadership in the jockey standings and is within three winners of the pace setter, George Russo.

Bringing home four winners over the last week-end, Adair boosted his total number of victories

J. C. SWIMMERS VS. PASADENA

Coach Jess Haxton's Santa Ana Junior college swimmers attempt to hang up their Southern California conference victory at Pasadena tomorrow afternoon. Pasadena gave the Dons one of their hardest tussles last year, losing 38-35, and are reported to be nearly as strong this season. Santa Ana is expected to be at full strength for the first time this season. The Dons have three dual meets next week, meeting Glendale Jaycee here Tuesday, Chaffey Jaycee here Friday and Occidental college varsity at Eagle Rock pool Friday night.

KANSAS RELAYS LURE OXY STAR

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Claude Kilday, "iron man" performer for Occidental college's track and field squad for the past two years, will try his hand in the decathlon in the Kansas relays April 23. Kilday, a senior, has done 9.7 seconds in the century, 21.4 seconds in the 220-yard dash, 49.5 seconds in the quarter-mile, thrown the discus 124 feet, the javelin 178 feet 8 inches, and put the shot 44 feet 8 inches.

THOMAS ONCE SPARRED WITH LOUIS

Odds Soar to 20-1 On Brown Bomber

By TOM PAPROCKI CHICAGO. — You must credit Promoter Mike Jacobs with a rare sense of humor when he matches Harry Thomas with Champion Joe Louis in a heavyweight "championship" bout for April Fool's day. "Frank Mike must feel certain Thomas is incapable of giving Louis a real workout here tomorrow night. The Thomas who was battered by Max Schmeling

JOE 20 TO 1 TO WIN CHICAGO (AP)—The 15-round brawl between Joe Louis and challenger, Harry Thomas, at the Chicago stadium tomorrow night, will set an all-time low for wagering on the result of a heavyweight championship fight.

There is absolutely no money in sight, since there are few willing to risk it on Thomas' wild swings. Odds are 20 to 1 that Louis wins, and 10 to 1 that he rocks the swing man to sleep.

—the Thomas who lost to Jimmy Adamick—does not belong in the same ring with Louis. Thomas is rugged. He proved that when he took the best Max Schmeling tossed and kept going until Referee Artie Donovan called a halt in the eighth. Thomas may pack the kick of a mule in his wild swings, but his problem is to land on some vulnerable spot. Against a clever boxer such as Louis, that won't be easy.

Harry thinks he may win. He insists he tangled with Louis, as a sparring partner, on one occasion, and landed a left hook with telling results. It was when Louis was preparing to fight Lee Ramagay in Los Angeles in 1935.

John Roxborough signed Thomas to work out with Louis and everything went smoothly until, according to Harry, he landed a left hook to the Brown Bomber's body and followed it up with the same punch to the jaw, dropping Joe to the floor in a sitting position. Roxborough immediately shoved Thomas away and called in another sparring partner.

Canzoneri, Watching Henry Armstrong Floor Feldman, Tabs Ross, Ambers to Win

NEW YORK (AP)—Tony Canzoneri, the baby-faced little fellow who held four world championships at one time or another in his fighting career, thinks both his old foes, Barney Ross and Lou Ambers, will lick Henry Armstrong this summer.

Tony made his prediction to the sound of Henry's gloves smacking on flesh last night. In the ring a few feet away Armstrong was hammering Lew Feldman, the war-worn New York lightweight. Eventually he knocked the New Yorker out in 1:55 of the fifth after dropping him for counts of nine in the first and fourth.

But Tony, getting up to go after the fight, remarked, "that still goes. They both take him." Even though it was Feldman's first knockout in a long and active career couldn't obscure the fact that this was not the Armstrong of six months ago. A year of continuous fighting has taken its toll. Last night at the Hippodrome in New York, the hammer man's timing was off and he seemed stale and ring-weary.

The little negro featherweight champion donated his end of the purse to the benefit fund for the family of the late Charlie Lynch, boxing judge. About 5000 fans saw the show, a benefit for Lynch's family.

Both knockdowns and the result of single punches, three terrific lefts, the first to the body, the last two to the head.

Armstrong weighed 133 to 134 for Feldman. During the four-week layoff he expects to take before a campaign for the welter and lightweight titles, he will try and put on some weight, something Canzoneri thinks he needs to beat Ross and Ambers.

"Barney is smart," said Tony, "awfully smart. He is bigger and that left jab of his is just about the fastest in the ring. These guys don't hit Armstrong with a left, but Barney will. And that weight will tell. Armstrong will not be able to bull him around."

"Ambers is smart in a different way," said the ex-champion, speaking of the man who took the lightweight title away from him. "He keeps moving around and he'll make Armstrong fight the way he wants. He cannot hit awfully hard, but he hits often. He is a hard guy to hit solid, too."

BOB ALLEN SETS '660' MARK, BUT LATHROP, WILLARD WIN

Breaking a two-year mark by ninth-tenths of a second, Bob Allen established a Santa Ana High school Class C 660-yard run record of 1 min. 35.5 secs. yesterday as the combined "C" forces of Lathrop and Willard Junior High schools defeated Santa Ana High school's C's, 75% to 49%, at Poly field.

Bob Newton of the present Saint varsity, held the former 660-yard mark at 1 min. 36.4 secs., set in 1936. The "Little Saints" captured six of the nine first places, but were weak in seconds and thirds.

Allen was a double winner, coping the 50-yard dash and the 660. Guiley of Lathrop placed first in the broad jump and shot put. Danielson of the high school scored 12 points, first in the high jump, second in the broad jump, third in the 50-yard dash.

50-yard dash—Bob Allen (SA), 36.4 secs.; Danielson (SA), 36.9 secs.; Brooks (W), 37.1 secs.

100-yard dash—J. Granados (SA), 1:10.4 secs.; Brooks (W), 1:10.4 secs.; Willard (L), 1:11.3 secs.

660-yard run—B. Allen (SA), 1:35.5 secs.; Lathrop (L), 1:36.4 secs.; Willard (W), 1:36.4 secs.

120-yard low hurdles—B. Edwards (SA), 1:40.4 secs.; Lathrop (L), 1:40.4 secs.; Yoder (L), 1:40.4 secs.

40-yard relay—Santa Ana (Granados, Allen, Danielson, Burlingame), 1:40.4 secs.; Lathrop, Willard, 1:40.4 secs.

High jump—Danielson (SA), 4 ft. 3 in.; Lathrop (L), 4 ft. 3 in.; Cleary (L), 4 ft. 3 in.

Pole vault—Tie between Jones (L) and Claus (SA), 9 ft. 3 in.; Higashi (W), 9 ft. 3 in.

Shot put—Guiley (L), Donner (W), 30 ft. 0 in.; Finster (W), 29 ft. 0 in.

Discus—Guiley (L), Donner (W), 110 ft. 0 in.; Finster (W), 109 ft. 0 in.

Final score: Lathrop and Willard, 75%; Santa Ana, 49%.

LEO NEWMAN MAKES MAT DEBUT HERE

Women's Free Night Set at '101' Arena

Aftermath of one of the most hectic and widely disputed wrestling decisions in the county—a decision that went to Bob Montgomery over Marshall Carter last week at the Orange County Athletic club—will have its ending in the same ring tonight.

At least this is the hope of mat followers as Montgomery and Carter prepare to meet in a three-fall-to-a-finish rematch on a four-bout "women's free night" program.

TONIGHT'S PROGRAM
Tarzan Bob Montgomery vs. Marshall Carter, two out of three falls, to a finish.
Leo Newman vs. Jimmy Lott, two out of three falls, 45-minute time limit.

Ken Hollis vs. Speedy Larence, one fall, 30 minutes.
Johnny Strelch vs. Cecil McGill, one fall, 20 minutes.

A new referee—big "Tiger" McKee, former wrestler—will be the man in the center instead of Herb Stegman, last week's arbiter.

Stegman gave Montgomery the match on a rolling fall and fans howled. Carter almost tore up the ring and for five minutes refused to leave.

No match—or decision—ever produced more action from participants and spectators alike. Fans milled around the ringside and for a time threatened bodily injury to Referee Stegman.

Supporting the main event, Promoter Levin has Jimmy Lott, former Alabama football star, facing Leo Newman, Canadian champion, in a three-fall, 45-minute match. Newman makes his bow heralded as a challenger to the world junior heavyweight title. Lott is a top hand. He recently pinned Ernie Piluso here and is generally regarded as a hard man to beat.

Wild and woolly wrestling should result in the special when Ken Hollis, latest "badman," tangles with another product of the rough-and-tumble school, "Speedy" Larence.

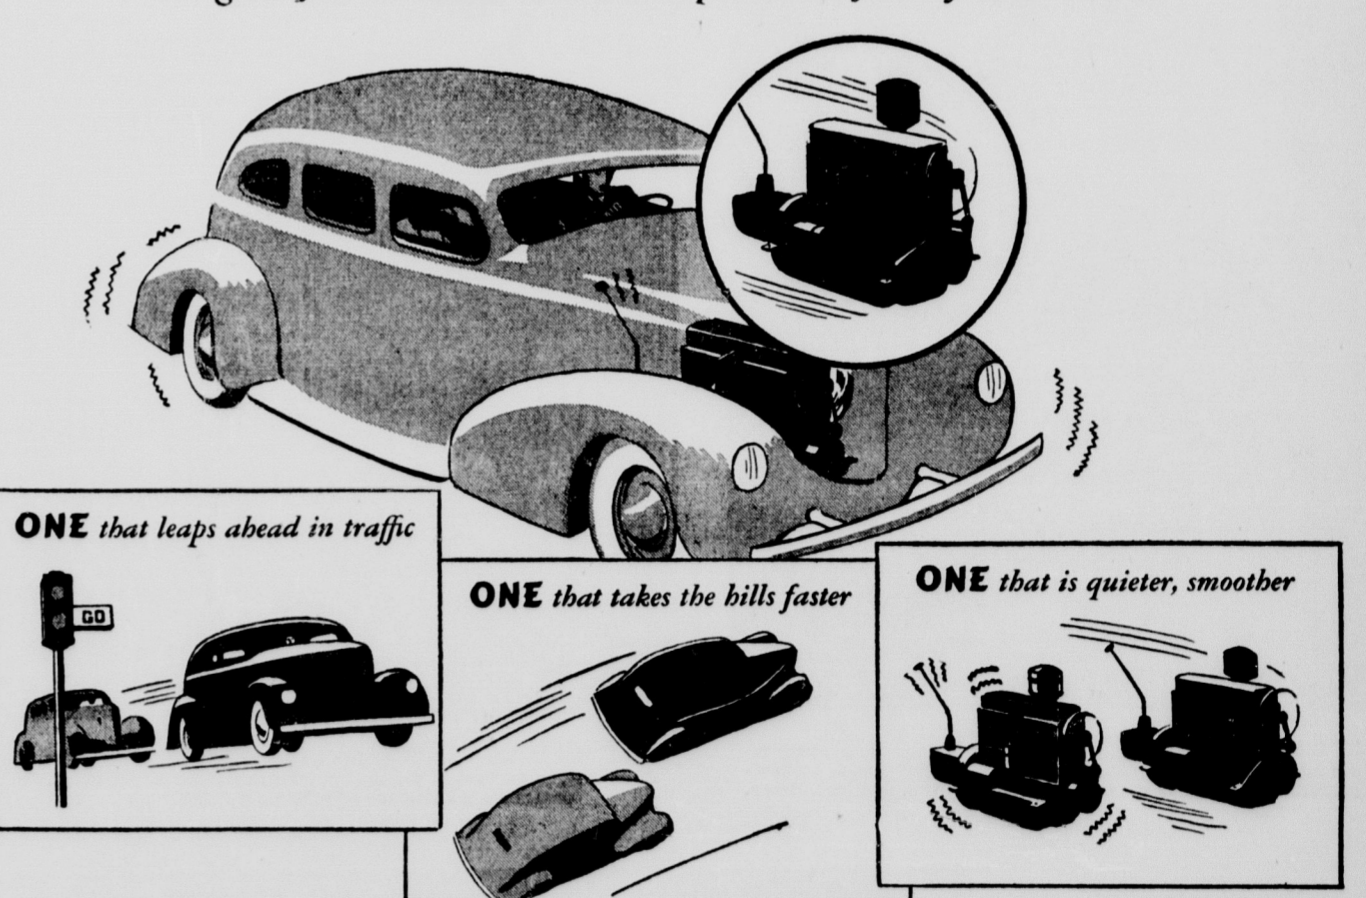

Women's tickets will be issued free to purchasers of tickets, except for the payment of tax. Tickets of corresponding value will be issued.

Yanks, Minus Joe DiMaggio, Break Camp in Florida

ST. PETERSBURG (AP)—The New York Yankees, still minus Joe DiMaggio, break camp today and head for Tallahassee. They will reach New York by a devious route and will play minor league teams exclusively on the junket. Their next big league opposition will be the Dodgers on April 15 at Ebbets field.

Garden Season—By—MILLARD
BROWNE

Ah, spring! Romance-time, maybe, for younger Santa Ana. Ho-hum time, perhaps, for tied-down office workers. But it's garden time for Mama and Papa as they get out of the house, go back to the soil, in a splurge of enthusiasm dampened only by mid-afternoon spring fever.

This year, as in past years, Mrs. Santa Ana is planting petunias while her husband plants tomatoes. And this year, as ever, the women are doing three-fourths of the gardening.

Which means Santa Ana gardens will produce colorful arrays of flowers, a comparative shortage of vegetables. (It's nine posies to each eatable seedling and nursery specialists estimate.)

Spring gardening fever hits many local home-owners (and Santa Ana is widely reputed as a home-owned town) as a fleeting interest, hits others as a lifelong hobby. Some can't wait to get to their rosebed diggings, others just stretch, yawn, finally decide it's garden-time again and get out the spade, hoe and sprinkler. But it all amounts to the same thing.

So, getting down to cases, here's what springtime planting consists of for the average Mrs. Santa Ana this year:

Five to 10 dozen bedding plants of five or 10 varieties; five to eight rose bushes, including two climbers; two or three 100-pound sacks of fertilizer, either sterilized (no weed seeds) or dairy variety; two pounds of grass seed (blue-grass and clover mixed) to fix dried-up spots in the lawn; a flowering shrub (one she especially likes, which could take the place of the one on the side that isn't doing so well); a package of snail-bait, fungicide for rose fungus and nicotine spray for aphids; camelia and azalea food (some sort of patented cottonseed meal preparation).

This gardening spree will come to around $10, maybe two or three times that, possibly considerably less if she uses seeds instead of bedding plants, goes into her annual landscaping on a less elaborate scale.

What about Mr. Santa Ana? Well, he doesn't do the buying or the gardening—under ordinary circumstances. And if he did, with no strings attached, chances are his shopping list would look something like this: A backyard orange tree, one or two deciduous fruits (pear, apricot, etc.) grapevine, berry, rhubarb, asparagus and tomato plants, and a vegetable garden planted from seed and led off by beans and carrots.

Amateur gardeners, any dealer will tell you, break down into two sets of classifications: The farmers and city folks, and the conservatives and experimenters. Farmers, whether women or men, will plant such "practical" items as fruit and vegetables; nearly any city resident, particularly a woman, will have nothing but flowers.

The conservatives, who aim at a pleasing general appearance, will stick with the colorful old stand-

WOMEN GIVE RECIPE FOR HAPPY LIVING

By LEONE BAXTER

The men won't talk! So report the managers of currently popular nation-wide surveys on every subject under the sun. Except in the matter of politics and public affairs, men ordinarily are of little assistance in establishing the figures and facts that make "human interest" material for magazine articles, newspaper features and millions of conversations.

But women (particularly when they're assured of anonymity) thoroughly enjoy setting down their conclusions on love and marriage; to testify regarding children and divorce; to detail with care their convictions on all phases of human relationships.

Seriously, thoughtfully, women over the nation today are exchanging notes on the recent widely-publicized poll conducted by the Ladies' Home Journal, which requested, in part, women's opinions on the requisites for happy marriage and the qualifications of an ideal husband.

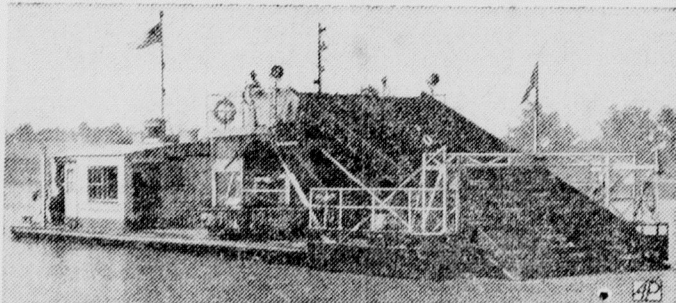

Of thousands upon thousands of women of every type and in every circumstance replying, it remained for an unnamed California woman to answer both questions at once, simply, sincerely.

"A husband should be kind and thoughtful," she said, "just like my husband." And in homely after-thought, "He treats me awful nice."

That reply: "kindness," "thoughtfulness"—has been deemed the answer to all the questions ever asked in all the polls ever taken on marital matters. Perhaps it's not too far-fetched to suggest that the woman has the answer not alone for domestic relations, but for the whole broad question of human affairs.

What, one wonders, would happen to the thunderous armament race if one day international diplomats should find "kind and thoughtful" notes from other nations in their embassy mail-boxes. Ridiculous? Certainly—in a world long used to selfishness and strife.

It Eats Hvacint hs and—Snakes

Army engineers got themselves this beautiful new $100,000 floating tily grinder but forgot about reptiles. The lilies form thick mats in the navigable streams of the south. The mats are a menace. The gadget broke up the mats but also yanked in a lot of snakes and threw them around on deck among the crew. Finally the crew arranged a gimmie that threw the snakes back into the grinder. So what?

bys, while more radical gardeners will branch out, take advantage of the average seedman's stock of 2000-odd varieties, and if that isn't enough, they may cross-breed some of their own.

For the conservatives, here are this year's big sellers: Petunias, pansies, ageratum for borders; columbine, delphinium and Canterbury bells for biennials; marigolds, snapdragons and asters for cut-flowers, "gals" dahlias and tuberous begonias in bulbs.

Though less than a fourth of the gardeners are men, the ratio is steadily decreasing, since women

EMPTY PLAYHOUSE
I sat in the cobwebby playhouse today

Where Billy and Dorothy used to play.

A squad of tin soldiers are ready to battle.

(Billy is married and lives in Seattle.)

These soldiers have stood in this battle array

For many a long inactive day.

Waiting for him to return and play.

(I ought to send them to Billy's boys.

But somehow I can't disturb his toys.)

I can shut my eyes and see Dorothy yet.

Serving tea with the little painted set.

I see her dust, and sweep the room

With the little scrawny orange broom.

It seems no more than yesterday

That she locked the door and went away

With tilted chin, and heart so bold,

To learn the pain life can hold.

And learn how sweet and wholly good

Is that Lost World—Childhood.

The house is a memory—a thing apart,

Quiet and empty—like my heart.

JAYSEE COMEDY
MUSICAL LAUGH

If you had a phobia for animals and were required to enter a doggie lassoing contest, what would you do?

When "Elly Jordan," played by Wilbur Marsters in the farce comedy, "Howdy, Stranger," met with this situation, a psychology professor came to his rescue. And what the professor did, provokes some of the smartest comedy which will be seen here when the production is presented next Friday evening, April 8, at the high school auditorium.

The music department of Santa Ana Junior college is presenting "Howdy, Stranger" for the general public as well as for high school and jaysee students. Tickets are now on sale at the Santa Ana Bookstore.

Truck Farming Shows
$382,000 More Profit

By GEORGE COVERDALE

Orange county's 8,909,730 boxes of citrus fruits earned an income of $18,808,780 during the frosty year of 1937, compared to 10 million boxes in 1936 valued at $23,410,150, according to a 1937 crop report issued from Agricultural Commissioner D. W. Tubbs' office. Orchard and field crops showed losses during the year, contrasted to 1936, while truck farming, nursery production, apiary activities and animal industry earned more money for their operators during the period covered in the report than for the previous year.

Total value of orchard crops in 1937 was 20 million dollars, in 1936 24½ million and in 1935 nearly 22 million. Field crops brought $3,348,773 during the year.

Truck farming was $382,000 more remunerative during 1937 than in 1936. The income from this source was $2,388,700. Animal industry displayed a million dollar gain with earnings of $4,275,970.

Twelve million pounds of walnuts earned $1,157,100, a gain of $270,000 over the previous year.

MARY HAMPTON'S Column

Angela wants an Easter outfit "that can be worn all through Spring and Summer and be all right for traveling too. It must be fairly inexpensive, and she would like something which has variable possibilities through additional frocks and accessories."

Good: So many of us need just this kind when it comes to an outfit for Easter Sunday, almost any daytime costume from town to dressy or afternoon sport is appropriate—just as long as it is new and interesting and becoming.

Angela suggested a two-piece suit with top and skirt that is not good for Summer travel. It would be much too hot in California. I think one of these fitted, belted, collarless new Spring coats would be excellent for they have a nice way of serving as both top coat and dressier coat, depending entirely upon what goes with them. And it can be Spring beige in color. Then to go with it would be, first of all, a tailored town frock in copper. And this will have copper shoes and a big bag and smart hat—maybe a sailor. That takes care of general daytime and town—and traveling for week-ends, or by train. For any long motor trip however, there would have to be a special costume.

Next, there will be a trim, smart patterned print in navy combined with copper-rust, and this will have a matching bolero. This will be smart with the coat or without—depending upon the weather—and it can also be worn with some navy accessories. Angela now has as well as the new copper things.

And the third frock will be dressy for afternoons—a dressy print with plaited skirt and tricky blouse or some other feminine touches. And for this there will be a wide-brimmed bonnet type hat with lots of colors trimming it—probably flowers.

All this, I believe, will make a compact, highly wearable group which will take care of travel, afternoon, cool and warm weather.

Dear Margo: Of course you yourself do not need formal clothes for this trip you plan up to Oregon—and you may not need after-noon clothes either. That depends upon where you stay and what you do. If you are visiting relatives and live simply with no entertaining, all you will need is sport clothes and the same sort of things you wear at home. The clothes we need depends upon the way we live—and people's lives vary tremendously. Won't you write back and tell me where you will stay, at what time of year you will go (temperature is always a most important consideration), what you will be doing, and also what you now have on hand. Then I can make a useful, workable list for you. One woman may just help with the housework while visiting, take little drives and read. Another young woman will play tennis, go to country clubs and dance! And each activity needs its own sort of clothes. What you do is the cue to what you wear. MARY HAMPTON.

WOMEN SEW FOR RED CROSS
Welfare branch of the Woman's guild of the Church of the Messiah met twice this month to make layettes for the Red Cross. They have completed and contributed three and are now working on the fourth, in addition to having given clothing for older children.

At the last meeting, Mrs. R. A. Hart served tea to fellow branch members present. Next meeting of the group will be April 22.

NEW MOTHERS GREETED BY PATRONS
Once again coming to the fore to extend the capable hospitality that has been their function since organization, members of the Patrons' Association of Santa Ana Junior college were hostesses yesterday afternoon at a tea to welcome mothers of new students.

The women's lounge was setting for the event, with central position being given the long tea table, spread with the handsome lace cloth recently presented the campus by the Sisterhood of Spinners, on which was a bowl of immense and colorful range of flowers in general charge, with the assistance of Mrs. Howard Timmons, incoming president; Mrs. Z. B. West, outgoing president; Mrs. Ernest Crozier Phillips, Mrs. B. J. McReynolds and Mrs. Robert M. Alexander.

Mrs. Robert Northcross, dean of women and new vice president of the Patrons, presided behind the tea urn. During the afternoon several delightful vocal numbers were presented by the junior college women's Treble Choir organized and composed of the Misses Nina June Robertson, Mildred Goodwin, Helen Waer, Delores Orberg, Rae Langley, Phyllis Krock, Eliza Mae Hoxie, Dempsey Pridge, Betty Neff, Lucille Gowen, Ruth Switzer and Mary Jean Steaver.

FASHION PARADE AT TEA OF GIRL RESERVES
Girl Reserves turned out en masse yesterday afternoon for the clever and entertaining fashion tea held at the Y. W. C. A. when the latest and smartest for Junior misses was shown through the courtesy of Rankin's with Mrs. Dixie O. Michaelson of U. S. C. extension division giving an entertaining fashion talk as the young models paraded through the crowded room.

Reservist line of Mothers' council members at the door to welcome guests who attended were the Mesdames P. H. Budd, Nora Reed, Robert Corcoran, H. I. Tway, Richard Luers, Charles Stoker, George Ames, J. J. Jacobs, Lloyd Banks, and E. D. Froeseche, who held next chair of the group. Mrs. Kenneth Sutherland was general chairman for the tea. Mrs. John McCoy, general chairman of Girl Reserves, introduced all the notable present including Miss Marjorie McCullough, Girl Reserves secretary, Miss Mary Howard, Y. W. C. A. secretary, and Miss A. Cole and B. Kaufmann from Rankin's, who aided in putting on the fashion show.

"Girls are no longer forgotten in the Easter parade," Mrs. Michaelson explained as she described the darling clothes ranging from bathing suits, through sports wear to "best" dresses, and ending with junior formal. Anna Mae Burks played the piano softly during the afternoon showing of fashions, while the Misses Marcelle Jordan, Mina Lundak, Betty Haynes, Rita Hallerlieth, Rovina Arnold, Melva Burke, Mildred Burek and Beverly Short modeled.

Refreshments were served following the showing in the dining room, with Mrs. W. D. Guthrie and Miss Mable McFadden pouring out a pretty lace covered table decorated with candies and a large green punch bowl.

Many Prizes Given At V. F. W. Party

Thirty tables were in play at a card party given recently by the local chapter of Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States at Knights of Pythias hall.

Great sprays of peach blossoms decorated the hall, and at the refreshment hour later, tables in the banquet hall were set with pastel baskets.

On the evening's committee were Mrs. Louise Hubbard, Mrs. Ruth Wisner and Mrs. Rose Minton were high at five hundred and Ralph Rowe and Zelpha Pierson were second. Cootie winners were Mrs. Eileen Miles and John Muller. First prize winners at pinocle were Mrs. John Davis and J. T. Woodcock, while second prize winners were Mrs. A. Weimer and John Davis.

PHYLLIS BECK REVEALS BETROTHAL
Having chosen June 25 as the date of her wedding to Ernest Pedersen of Santa Ana, Miss Phyllis Beck entertained members of her sewing club yesterday afternoon, and surprised them completely with the announcement.

It was not until late in the afternoon that the truth was revealed by means of tiny scrolls hidden in little Easter baskets that accompanied a refreshment course.

Miss Beck was assisted in serving by her mother, Mrs. J. J. Beck. Her guests included Mrs. G. L. Kyle, Mrs. Elwood Coate, Mrs. Ronald Shultz, Mrs. Lynn Speer, Miss Jessie Ferris, Miss Ruth Taute, Miss Josephine Rane, Miss Evangeline Miller and Miss Bernadine Helberg.

FORMER HELEN RANDALL HERE
Mrs. Francis Wight and baby daughter Eleanor of Syracuse, N. Y., will be week-end guests of Mrs. R. C. Harris, 2036 North Main street.

Mrs. Wight lived in Santa Ana when she was Helen Randall and many friends here will be glad to renew acquaintance with her.

Close Friends Are Told Of Betrothal

Choosing to tell members of her card club and a few old friends in informal fashion of the approaching marriage of her niece, Mrs. James E. Allen entertained at a pretty little affair yesterday afternoon. The niece, Miss Marybelle Gulick, has, with her brother, Curtis Lee Gulick, made her home for many years with Judge and Mrs. Allen, and with a great-aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Meisel of North Garney street. She will wed Howard Faccou in the early spring.

Each guest brought a pretty piece of pottery in either delphinium blue or daffodil yellow to launch the bride-elect's trousseau. Lovely flowers sent by Mrs. Harry Spencer, and pots of gorgeous cinerarias given Mrs. Allen by her husband on her recent wedding anniversary offset the dishes' high table prizes were awarded at the conclusion of a card session to Mrs. C. B. Perkins, Mrs. James Farrage and Mrs. Lillian Pritchett.

Guests of Mrs. Allen were Mrs. C. B. Perkins, Mrs. William Rohrer, Mrs. Harold Stone, Mrs. O. Wells, all of Santa Ana, and Mr. James Dula, Mrs. Lillian Pritchett, Mrs. Mae Farrar, Mrs. T. W. Fleisher, Mrs. James Farrage, Mrs. Harry Spencer, Mrs. Frank Hoffman, Dr. Mary E. Wright and Mrs. E. F. Museus.

Chairman of the dining room was Mrs. Adelaide Lowe, who was assisted by the Mesdames John Crawford, Frank Windie, Glen Warner, Charles Swanner and William Wollaston.

Mary Stoddard Admits She Has Perfect Mate But He Has No Hobby

Discovered—the ideal husband! He must be because even his own wife admits it. Now you'd think such a wife would have no problems at all, but she seems to think she has a real one.

It's this: Her husband isn't interested in anything in particular except her, their baby and their home. She thinks he should have some interest—a hobby of some sort, but she can't find a thing that seems to catch his fancy.

Should she just forget about it, or keep on trying to interest him in some sort of recreation? Have any of our readers suggestions on hobbies which might help her to solve her problem, if you could call it that?

Dear Miss Stoddard: I haven't exactly a problem, but rather a situation that might develop into a problem, and I would like advice on it.

You advise so many women to take more interest in their husband's hobbies. What I would like to know is: How is one to find out their husband's hobbies or interests?

When my husband comes home at night he plays with the baby about half an hour, and then I put him to bed. Then we eat. Afterwards he retires to his easy chair and sits there the rest of the evening, with his eyes closed, unless we have company, and then he is the perfect host.

We haven't a great deal of extra money to spend on a hobby, but I would be willing to do without personal things for myself if necessary.

He says he is satisfied with his home and family and that he is happy. I have no reason to doubt him. I would appreciate it very much if you and your readers could help me to make his life more worth while. Thank you.

MARY
Did it ever occur to you that your husband may consider his wife, his baby and his home his hobby? You do not state what his work or profession is, but if it is tiring, perhaps he really needs this complete relaxation he gets in his easy chair each evening.

If I were you I would not be concerned to the point of worrying about your husband's seeming lack of interest in outside affairs as long as his health is good. Of course, for his health he is slightly overweight, and it would be an excellent thing if you could get him to take a walk several evenings a week or go for an occasional swim or play golf.

As your baby grows older he undoubtedly will take interest in his own activities, and then you won't even have a "situation," I'm sure.

She asked that all presidents planning to attend the state P. T. A. convention in San Francisco May 24-27 make reservations immediately.

Miss Wilson was graduated from Santa Ana High school and Junior college, and later attended library school. She has just recently resigned from the Orange county library.

This afternoon Mrs. Susan Ruth-erford and Mrs. C. M. Deakins of Balboa are giving a luncheon in her honor, and Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Chapman, jr., are entertaining at dinner for her and Mr. Cummings this evening.

Tomorrow the popular couple will be guests of honor at a dinner being given by Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Hells, and on Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Shafer are giving a reception for them from four to six o'clock in their lovely new Lemon Heights home.

THE WRONG MURDERER

By HUGH CLEVELY

Chapter 36 EMPTY HOUSE

Mahony was filled with foreboding. Number 518 St. John's Wood road was the house where he had left Lawson's crooks tied up. Would Ruth be there when he and Inspector Kennedy arrived?

In a quarter of an hour they had arrived, had sprung up the steps, and found the front door slightly open. They went in, and the house was silent.

Inspector Kennedy flashed his electric torch in front of him. The first room they entered was the drawing room in which Mahony had left the two bound crooks. On the floor were pieces of the rope which Mahony had used to tie the two men. The rope had been cut.

Inspector Kennedy examined it, frowning. Sergeant Dawkins uttered an exclamation and stooped and picked something up from a corner.

"Hallo!" he said. "This looks as though she's been here. Held out a woman's bag."

The bag was Ruth's; the contents proved that. But neither Ruth nor anybody else was in the house.

"I wonder what's happened to her?" said Inspector Kennedy in a worried tone. "Have you any ideas on the subject, Mahony?"

For a moment Mahony did not answer. His heart was full of fear. He was afraid of Ruth. So far as he could see, only one thing could have happened to her.

"I'm afraid she's fallen into the hands of the dope and kidnapping gang," he said in a low voice.

Inspector Kennedy nodded. "Have you any idea where they could have taken her?" he asked.

"None at all," answered Mahony.

There was a pause. Then the inspector asked another question. "Where does Lawson come into all this? What is the meaning of that reference to him in her letter?"

"He's the head of the dope and kidnapping gang," answered Mahony briefly.

"What—Ambrose Lawson?" exclaimed the inspector in an amazed voice. "Have you any proof of your statement?"

"Not a scrap," answered Mahony. "If you accused him, he'd only laugh in your face. But after you'd left the house he'd make arrangements to have you quietly murdered. Think this over. I told Bassett I was pretty sure Lawson was the head of the gang."

"I told Lee-Ramsden that I'd told Bassett," Lawson immediately told Lawson. Within about an hour of Lee-Ramsden telephoning Lawson this morning, Bassett's house was attacked by armed gunmen. Doesn't that strike you as peculiar?"

"Very peculiar," agreed Inspector Kennedy dryly.

He was silent for a time, thinking Mahony's statement surprised him, but he was not altogether disinclined to believe it. Inspector Kennedy looked at Mahony very keenly.

"I'm not going to keep you any longer now, Mahony," he said in a slow, meaning voice. "I expect you'd have a lot to do tonight. But I'm letting you go on the condition that you report at my office at the Yard at ten in the morning, and tell me if you have any news of Miss Fraser. Is that a bargain?"

Mahony perfectly understood that the inspector was giving him a chance to try to rescue Ruth. He did not blame the inspector for the condition attached to that chance.

"That's a bargain," he said curtly.

"Good luck to you," said Inspector Kennedy.

With that Mahony left the house. When he had gone Sergeant Dawkins spoke to Inspector Kennedy.

"What do you reckon he'll do, sir?"

"I don't know. Something pretty drastic if I'm any judge of character. I shouldn't be surprised if somebody gets hurt tonight."

But Lawson would probably not be easy to catch; he would be guarded. Mahony smiled grimly; he had thought of a way of catching him. Elsa had played one part tonight; now she could play another. But she need not know she was playing it.

At Marlborough Road station he rang her up.

"This is Terence Mahony speaking," he said. "The police decided to let me go after all, thanks to the word you put in for me at our interview. I want to know if you'll do something for me?"

"Of course," she answered. She was eager to do something to try to make up for the harm she had done.

"I want to speak to Mr. Lawson tonight," went on Mahony. "Could you ring him up and ask him to come round and see you about eleven-thirty? But don't tell him I want to speak to him, or he won't come."

"Well . . . I'll do it if I can, but I don't know whether I shall be able to get hold of Mr. Lawson," answered Elsa. "He told me he was going out tonight, to some club—the Golden something or other. I'm terribly sorry. Though, if I ring up his house, perhaps his butler will be able to tell me where he's gone."

So Lawson had gone to the Golden Centipede. A thrill of exultation ran through Mahony.

"Never mind," he said. "I'll see him some other time. With that he rang off, left the station, and took a taxi to his lodgings."

He spent twenty minutes at his lodgings disguising himself according to the directions which he had been given to him by the assistant at Clarkford's. He spent five minutes carefully rubbing out the name of the Golden Centipede membership cards which he had taken from the two crooks that afternoon, and writing in another name. Then he set out for his appointment with his gang.

At half past eleven he met them, as arranged, in a little quiet square not far from Jernyn street. They arrived in two cars, the first car containing two men in evening dress, and the three huge bottles of champagne which Mahony had ordered, the other car containing the remaining four men clad in their rough sea-going clothes. Mahony gave them all careful directions and they started for the Golden Centipede club.

The Golden Centipede had two entrances, at Clarkford's in the courtyard, and a tradesmen's entrance in a quiet alley at the back of the club. The car containing Mahony, the two men in evening dress, and the biggest of the four other men, drove to the front entrance. The second car drove to the back entrance.

About Folks

Gregg Watson was a member of the executive board council of the DeMolays who was in charge of planning a birthday surprise for Dr. Roy S. Horton last night at the Horton home.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Lee and children, Charles and Jennie Lou, of 1605 Spurgeon street, left Thursday morning for San Luis Obispo, to attend the annual celebration of the Polytechnic school there. This will be the first time Mr. Lee has been present for the commemorative event since 1914. They are returning Sunday.

Mrs. Etta C. Evans has been the guest of her sister, Miss Susan Cloyes, 707 Spurgeon street, for a week previous to going to San Diego for an indefinite stay.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Miller of Louise street and Mrs. George Walker of Valencia street spent yesterday in San Diego.

Mrs. Margaret Barnes, who makes her home with her daughter, Mrs. George Walker, left last night for Los Angeles to spend a week visiting friends.

Dr. and Mrs. John D. Ball, 2308 Oakmont street, spent last week in San Francisco and Berkeley while the doctor attended Charter day clinics.

Mildred McNeal returned yesterday to her home at 1020 North Baker street after spending some time in Elsinore.

Inside the front entrance was a flight of stairs, which wound upwards to a landing on which were situated the men's and women's cloak-rooms. At the entrance to the men's cloak-rooms a large, uniformed commissioner, to see that non-members, unaccompanied by members, did not enter the club. From the landing another flight of stairs led upwards to the dance room and cocktail bar.

Mahony and the two men in evening dress, clutching their jerrycans of champagne, mounted the steps that lead up to the first landing in a somewhat uncertain manner; they had the appearance of being rather drunk. The commissioner frowned slightly; he stepped forward to challenge them.

"Are you a member, sir?" he demanded.

"Sure I'm a member," replied Mahony thickly. "Here's card."

He pulled out his faded membership card, held it in front of the commissioner, and thrust it into his pocket again.

"Brought a couple of friends 'long for a drink," went on Mahony solemnly. "My birthday. Have to pay entrance fee and sign book, I suppose? Pay it for me, shall you fellow. Here you are."

He thrust a couple of pound notes into the commissioner's hand.

"Very good, sir," he said. Mahony and his companions went on up the stairs towards the dance floor. From the bottom of the stairs, by the front entrance, a voice hailed the commissioner.

"Oi, mate!"

At the bottom of the stairs stood a large, rough-looking unshaven man. The commissioner was indignant. With an air of immense dignity he descended the stairs.

"Wot d'you want?" he demanded. "This ain't no place for the likes of you. You 'op it."

"Ain't a minute, matey," he said in a conciliatory tone. "Just 'ave a good look at this."

As the commissioner bent forward, a fist came upward, taking him fairly under the chin. The commissioner slumped forward unconscious.

Several people, Monday, get very, very sleepy.

Merry Maestro Swings Out

By TOM E. DANSON

Felix Knight, handsome young tenor who shares the guest-star spot with Aileen Stanley on tonight's "Musical Moments Revue," was born in Georgia on a plantation, but prefers the city now, he says. He admits he's a good cook. Even his wife admits it. As far as his singing, judge for yourself when you hear him on KVOE at 8:45.

VIC ARDEN

8:45. Aileen will sing "Fifty Million Robins Can't Be Wrong." England's number one hit which she introduced. Vic Arden's orchestra and the Four Songbirds will sing another hit tune: "Oh, Oh Boom," and with Graham McNamee also aboard the program looks like a hit show.

CROSBY, HOST AGAIN
Bing Crosby will be host in the Kraft Music Hall tonight to Warren William and Anna Mae Wong, of the films, and Marian Claire of the Chicago City Opera company.

Johnny Scott Trotter and his E. E. supply accompaniment to four or five Crosby songs on the broadcast over the KFI-NBC-Red Network at 7:00 and Bob Burns continues his stories of his relatives in Van Buren, Arkansas. Ken Carpenter, the frustrated chimes ringer, hopes to have his disabled bells back in condition.

TRIBUTE TO KNUTE K. ROCKNE
Mark Kelly will pay tribute to Knute K. Rockne, famous Notre Dame football coach, on the seventh anniversary of his tragic death, during his regular "Man to Man Sports" program over KXN-Columbia Broadcasting System, 7:00 o'clock tonight.

TAYLOR RETURNS TO "GOOD NEWS"
Robert Taylor will return as master of ceremonies and Una Merkel, Lionel Barrymore, Maureen O'Sullivan, Gilbert Russell, Louis B. Mayer, and director Jack Conway will be featured guests on "Good News of 1938" tonight. That's in addition to Fanny Brice, Baby Snooks—Brice, Frank Morgan, Connie Boswell and Meredith Willson's orchestra. (KFI-NBC-Red Network, 6:00 to 7:00.)

This will also mark the first time in radio history that a Hollywood program has been short-waved to England and picked up for a special audience there.

Bob Crosby and his great "Dickie" swing band will return to Pacific coast airwaves via the Mutual network and KVOE tonight, 9:45 to 10 o'clock when he succeeds Kay Kyser's orchestra at the Blackhawk restaurant in Chicago.

Highlighted with Crosby's band are the "Bob Cats," an instrumental group which makes a unique contribution to the band's repertoire. The band is featured by vocalists.

Bob is the young brother of Bing Crosby and one of the crooner's most ardent fans. He made his first stage appearance at the age of 13 in his hometown, Spokane, singing "Has Anyone Seen My Gal?"

"Hollywood Serenade" the musical program originating in the film capital from the background of radio's largest orchestra, pays a signal tribute to Sigmund Romberg, composer, in its presentation tonight at 7 o'clock on KVOE and the Mutual Network.

Elias Breckin, internationally famous violinist and director of the seventy-five piece modern symphony, has selected "Lover, Come Back to Me" "One Alone" and "Auf Wiedersehen" as the Romberg selections which will be combined in a medley of works by the noted composer.

Alfred Wallenstein, Mutuals young music director who conducts the popular "Sinfonietta" broadcasts, recently invited his listeners to name their favorites for an all-request program.

Selected from a wave of mail, postmarked from all parts of the country, the conductor has selected the most recently requested selections which he will play on his regular "Sinfonietta" concert this evening on KVOE at 5:15.

THE MOUNTAIN ROYS

By PAUL WEBB

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS

By JOHN HIX

THE FOUNTAIN OF BLOOD

Deep in the heart of the Honduran jungles of Central America nature played one of her strangest pranks by creating a veritable fountain of blood which gushes with sticky, reddish liquid every time it rains.

Awed natives view this phenomenon with fear, believing a huge dragon lies bleeding far back in a case from which the "blood" spurts to form a winding, red river that stretches for miles.

No white man ever was known to have witnessed the strange sight until word of the "dragon's blood" river got to Paul Behm, a University of Wisconsin student.

Handicapped by lack of funds, Behm, strange as it seems, gave several blood transfusions to finance his search for the "Fountain of Blood." With two companions he set out and, after much hardship, made his way into the interior of British Honduras, in 1934.

Near the tiny village of La Virtud the river was found. Behm's party traced it to the source—a cave in a mountain as the natives had said—from which gushed what looked to be true blood! Chemical analysis, however, proved it to be composed of water saturated with decayed animal and vegetable matter, which held in colloidal suspension certain reddish minerals that gave the appearance of blood.

Tomorrow: King of Castanets.

A Matter of American Liberty

City Judge Call of Los Angeles handed a knockout punch to that metropolis' anti-handbill ordinance yesterday.

He decided a case against the ordinance, taking judicial notice of a recent decision by Chief Justice Hughes of the U. S. supreme court that "liberty of the press is not confined to newspapers and periodicals."

Here's what Justice Hughes said about a Georgia handbill edict:

"Whatever the motive which induced its adoption, its character is such that it strikes at the very foundation of the freedom of the press by subjecting it to license and censorship. x x x

"Legislation of the type of the ordinance in question would restore the system of license and censorship in its baldest form.

"The liberty of the press is not confined to newspapers and periodicals. It necessarily embraces pamphlets and leaflets. These indeed have been historic weapons in the defense of liberty, as the pamphlets of Thomas Paine and others in our own history abundantly attest."

Santa Ana has a similar ordinance, under which several arrests have been made, including one of a Journal executive over distribution of the Sunrise edition of this newspaper.

The Journal is on record legally in the courts on this matter. It is fighting the case. In so doing, it is simply fighting for the fundamental American principle of a free press which Justice Hughes has so clearly enunciated.

Fullerton is sending invitations to its community festival out by carrier pigeon. Won't Jim Farley be mad when he hears about the post office being slighted that way.

It's Up to the House Now

It is squarely up to the House to alter the unwise and unsound reorganization bill in such a way that the advantages which it provides for streamlining the executive department will not be more than offset by the additional power it gives the President at the expense of congress.

There are two danger spots in the bill, as we see it: 1. The proposal to let the President abolish, reorganize or change the functions of 133 executive agencies. In this case a change ordered by the President could be blocked only by a two-thirds vote of congress. That is power over the machinery of government.

2. The proposal to abolish the office of comptroller general, now independent of the President, and to transfer the duty of approving or disapproving expenditures to the budget who is dependent on the President, with an independent audit only after the money is paid out. That is power over the public purse.

Now that the senate has approved the measure without taking precautions necessary to preserve its own full independence, the only barrier against a shift in government authority lies in the House.

There is no reason why the House should not wake up to its responsibilities and amend the reorganization bill so that all the benefits which it contemplates will be obtained without a sacrifice of vital legislative strength. To pass it as it is would be an abject admission that congress has not the courage and intelligence to perform its own duties.

"Violet and Daisy Hilton, Siamese twins, join union," says headline. It's a good thing one didn't want to go CIO and the other AFL.

Sewage in the Ocean

If money and means can be found to do the job, the eight inland cities in the joint outfall sewer district should make arrangements to quit dumping sewage into the ocean.

The coastline of Orange county is one of the most valuable and delightful of the entire continent. It's a shame to pollute and depreciate even a small portion of it with sewage.

Many difficulties at present seem to stand in the way of establishing a disposal plant capable of carrying the load. The cost of such a unit has been estimated from $375,000 to $750,000. This is a heavy sum to place under current conditions on the cities. There are other obstacles, too, such as technical difficulties with industrial refuse confronting engineers in this area.

On the other hand, a considerable sum will have to be spent to put the old outfall sewer line into first-class condition. It might be advisable to utilize this money as a portion of the cost for the bigger project.

Many other inland communities have found a way to meet the need for adequate sewage disposal. No doubt Santa Ana and its neighbors will, too, as the problem is further discussed and studied by both the cities of the coast and interior.

That Cleveland boy who was injured while playing in a revolving door must have been making believe he was Britain's prime minister.

Your Fine New Highway

The fine new link in Highway 101 between Orange and San Diego counties has been dedicated and the state political officers who had to do with the development have had their say. Each more or less took for himself the credit he thought he deserved.

We are glad to see the officials so willing to pat themselves on the back, but now it's time for credit to go where it belongs.

The new highway belongs to the people. They paid for it. Not only those who were invited to or spoke at the celebration, but the poorest automobile owner who dug up the cash when he bought gasoline and oil for his car.

The people should feel grateful, however, to those who designed the highway. Divided for one-way traffic, it will make travel much safer and will permit of high speeds with less danger.

There should be more highways of this type.

Fair Enough

Ethics of Reporting The News

By Westbrook Pegler

I got a little peeved when I read that Senator Byrnes, of South Carolina, said that "misrepresentation" by newspaper columnists aroused opposition to the reorganization bill. The word "misrepresentation" has a dirty sound, and the political commentators of our press can look the members of the United States senate dead in the eye on that one.

"Misrepresentation" has the sound of "deception" for ulterior motives, and we all know that no man can be a senator who is not a politician and that no politician ever presents both sides of any issue in which he has an interest or commitment. The politician gives the side which he favors, and the ethics of the hard-shelled professional are such that he may even favor a side which he privately believes to be absolutely bad lest the greater political organization of which he is a member deprive him of the right to appoint his back-home henchmen and heeler to cheap jobs for which they have no qualifications beyond a highly developed talent for sitting around.

Thus deprived, he has no power to reward the heelers who serve him at election time, and therefore stands to lose his own job, which doesn't pay much in money, either, but gives him a sense of importance and the right to park his car where the taxpayers can't.

I GO FURTHER

I go further and say that if any newspaper columnist of national circulation who deals with political matters were shown to have had dealings comparable, even on a small scale, to certain private activities of Joe Guffey and George Berry—to name a couple—Senator Byrnes' own colleagues in the most exclusive gentlemen's club in the world—he would be completely discredited, fired and forced to seek, no doubt, congenial employment in one of the propaganda outfits of the New Deal, where his talents would be appreciated.

Mr. Guffey's record was dusted off in last week's Saturday Evening Post, and anyone who reads it may ask himself how far a newspaper columnist would get with that sort of record around his neck. Mr. Berry, the millionaire president of the pressmen's union, put in for damages to a problematical quantity of marble beneath Norris lake in his home country in eastern Tennessee, and a federal commission threw the claim out. "The case doesn't stand," because the commission, being a government agency, had something of the character of a defendant and might have learned a little.

IT MIGHT BE LEGAL

But if Senator Byrnes ever learned of a columnist's buying leases in the path of a public improvement and then claiming damages for the regatta rights to a desert, he has only to raise a holler to run the journalist clear out of the newspaper business. It might be legal, but it wouldn't be tolerated in a code of ethics which holds to a code a few cuts above that of the most exclusive gentlemen's club.

I refer also to Senator Harry Truman, of Kansas City, who recently got up and roared against the reappointment of Maurice Milligan, the federal prosecutor who has been sending to prison a lot of thieves who stole elections for the machine of which Senator Truman is the delegate in the United States senate. This is the Pendergast machine, which does the craps-shooters and prostitutes in a town open town and which in 1934 gave Truman a statewide primary plurality of 40,000 over representative John Cochran, of St. Louis.

There has been a new registration in Kansas City since then which showed a decline of 86,000. Inasmuch as Truman beat Cochran by 120,000 to 1200 in Kansas City, the 86,000 spooks obviously voted for Senator Truman. Spooks they must have been, for there has been no exodus of population from Kansas City to account for this shrinkage of the registration. Deduct them and Cochran won by 46,000.

Now, if Senator Byrnes will cite a single instance in which a commentator's remarks on any political issue have been comparable in obligation and depth of motive to Senator Truman's speech against Milligan's reappointment, that one, too, will be barred from the senate press gallery as unworthy to report to interpret the labors of his three fellow-statemens here mentioned.

Why, then, should or do columnists "misrepresent"? Are they under orders? This is impossible, because those whose writings have sufficient circulation to be of any effect write for syndicates and are published by papers of all or, let us say, both—shades of opinion. Are they bribed in this case by the power companies? That would be easy to prove through their income tax returns and frisking department, which does not exempt journalists, however tenderly it may handle the affairs of prosperous and well-connected young briliants of the insurance and radio trades. Maybe Senator Byrnes himself could supply the motive and the proof of conduct which would not be tolerated in this business, however lightly it may be indorsed as characteristic of the profession which he has the honor to adorn.

ROME.—J. Pierpont Morgan died at 12:05 today. Dr. Allen Starr of New York attributed death to emotional breakdown caused by the Pujo money trust investigation. The noted financier's passing was not expected to have any material effects on the world's stock and produce markets.

The West Fifth street reinforced concrete bridge across the Santa Ana river is finished, and so far the sum of $25,300 in warrants has been paid out by the county. Preliminary estimates had put the total price at $18,000.

PATTERSON, N. J.—William D. Haywood, organizer of the Industrial Workers of the World, was sentenced today to six months in jail for having caused unlawful assemblages. He came here in connection with the strike of silk mill workers.

COLUMBUS.—Secretary of War Garrison and Major General Leonard Wood arrived today and began directing flood relief work. The river is reported still rising at Springfield. Distress calls have been received from Cairo, and other points, and troops have been ordered to patrol the levees in many points to watch for weaknesses.

I'll admit that some of these actors out here are pretty good, but if you want a see some real actors around the studios, you want a watch some of these high-priced writers. When they sit, swaying back and forth with their faces buried in their hands, actin' like a bunch of fools and they do the bosses pretty well.

But the other night, at home, one of 'em forgot where he was and started to do his "thinking act" when his 3-year-old boy says, "Daddy, a penny for your thoughts." The Mailbag

Public opinion, or what somebody in office imagines to be public opinion, is our ruler. If public opinion is active, the politicians and people sit up and take notice. There is a definite need for onspoken talking and thinking on public matters. Honest, intelligent, and thoughtful people contribute to the formation of public opinion. The Journal invites letters to The Mailbag. Please limit communications to 550 words.

OVER 40 YEARS

To the Editor: The editorial under the heading, "A Vital American Legion Goal," indicates that newspapermen fully realize a deplorable condition exists and yet the paragraph, "But it is treble bad to force unemployment upon men and women who have passed some arbitrary age line like that of 40 years" would seem to indicate that business, which means, specifically employers, is setting such age limits with the intent to discriminate.

It does not require a supermind to bring home certain facts that have been brought about to exist under our present machinery of production and the old price system.

It is impossible for machinery to produce and men, who have no jobs, to purchase that which the machine produces. This condition multiplies as new inventions of science progress.

The retirement life payment act sponsored by the California pension plan is a reasonable constructive program which will go far toward solving the economic ills of our state and will provide work for most of our citizens without any specific age limit.

This movement was gained such momentum that at a conservative estimate one third of the people of the state have heard of it and are enthusiastically giving it their support and the measure will positively carry at our next election.

My question is, why do editors of "progressive" papers fail to give such a wide spread, well considered, workable and popular plan no space in either the news section or the editorial page? Can it be that you are not aware of the movement of its far reaching and beneficial effects on our economic life?

Just think what a wonderful part the newspapers could enjoy and with what pride they could refer to the part they had in bringing plenty to not only the needy but also to everyone.

J. E. KOBERNIK, Garden Grove.

GRAND JURY

To the Editor: Just what is a grand jury? If I understand the law it is to check up once a year on all city and county government. Here is what was asked of them. E. W. Gittner made a demand on the Brea Olinda High school board through his attorney Frank Campbell, demanding $1500 returned to school funds that were paid out to a teacher who had been fired.

The matter was discussed in the presence of Bill Menton who was asked why he let a writ of mandate be issued by Homer G. Ames on city funds and paid to high school board. Mr. Menton said he couldn't help what Judge Ames had done and that he knew all our charges but it was only our imaginative minds.

We cannot see the school journal so the grand jury when they called me were coming back in a week to take me up to school. I am still waiting on the committee.

J. A. Beck grand jury, what a joke! They passed a resolution to keep me out of future grand jury cases, and I'm still waiting if I could tell something after Dec. 1, 1937. Sincerely, MARGARET LINEBARGER, Brea.

What Other Editors Say

FLOOD DAMAGE

The recent interesting statement from Mr. L. Demming Tilton, head of the state planning commission. He blames much of the flood damage on short-sightedness in land development and feels that the use of land should be determined by some planning authority set up to prevent communities from suffering by the utilization of land for purposes to which it is not adapted.

Many will agree with Mr. Tilton. There have been cases where land which was properly drainage ways for emergency floodwaters or sites for residence districts and for business purposes. This has not been entirely the fault of real estate operators. It has been due also to bad judgment on the part of many otherwise intelligent people.

Some state or local planning method might be adopted which would remedy mistakes of this kind in community development in the future. Doubtless that is in Mr. Tilton's mind—Santa Monica Outlook.

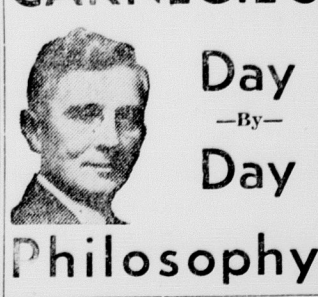

LARCENY IN WALL ST.

Richard Whitney, the central figure in one of those rare combinations of circumstances in which it is possible to reduce the activities of a Wall Street operator to so simple a matter as larceny.

The closing of Richard Whitney & Co., if the losses are only $2,000,000, is not a financial disaster, but Wall Street could hardly have been more embarrassed if J. P. Morgan had been caught helping himself from the collection plate at the Cathedral of St. John the Divine.

Finally, we hope our friends in Moscow do not find too incredible this spectacle of a financial speculation on a scale so unworthy the traditions of Wall Street.—The Nation.

CARNEGIE'S

Day

Philosophy

Owen D. Young was getting off a Pullman car in Florida. He had had an enjoyable and restful trip from New York. The porter had been courteous and attentive. Owen D. Young gave him a generous tip and remarked: "I wish I could always be sure of doing my job as perfectly as you do yours."

Did he mean it? Of course he meant it. No man handling the complex and confounding problems that Owen D. Young wrestles with could even hope to come as near to perfection as that porter did.

WORDS ARE POWERFUL

Owen D. Young's words of appreciation did four things—

1. They made the porter happy.
2. And because they made the porter happy they also gave Owen D. Young a feeling of satisfaction.
3. They inspired the porter to want to continue to do a splendid job.
4. They impressed me so much that I have set them down in this column.

AS A RESULT, I HOPE THAT PEOPLE

reading these lines down in Texas and Tennessee and out in California and up in Canada will be moved to give a few extra words of appreciation tomorrow.

Let's all use Owen D. Young's philosophy tomorrow. Let's try it out for just one day. If it works, why not drop me a line and tell me precisely what the other person said and what happened? I won't use your name but I may want to use a part of your letter in this column.

KELOGG'S HOBBY

I visited Dr. John Kellogg's sanitarium at Battle Creek some time ago. After showing me over his plant, he took me to his home, and most of the time talked about his hobby which is collecting the coins that were buried for centuries in Rome and in northern Africa. He gave me a coin that was issued during the reign of Constantine, and he said that one of his had lain in the tomb of one of the Incas for three thousand years.

I recently spoke at a meeting of the National Shoe Fair in Chicago. The man sitting next to me told me this story. I'll repeat it in his own words.

WHY DON'T THEY

"For years I was a sales manager of one of the largest shoe manufacturers in the world. I finished high school, but I never attended college. But I had a man working for me who had graduated from two colleges. He knew 10 times as much as I knew. He was positively brilliant. Yet he earned only one half as much as I earned. Why? Because he irritated people. He couldn't win friends. He couldn't win cooperation. He knew all about Greek and higher mathematics, but he didn't know people. We tried to change him but we couldn't."

Then he asked, "Why don't colleges train men in the art of dealing with people?"

Why don't they? I have often wondered myself. (Copyright, 1938)

IT'S ODD

But It's Science

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE

AP Science Editor

NEW YORK.—Scientific jobs are scarce too.

An official of one of New York's great scientific institutions tells of a man who asked for work.

"He was the mildest, gentlest man I ever met," the scientist said. "He sat in my office and told me his story."

He was, it developed, from a monastery not far from New York City. He had been there five years in his novitiate.

But he had not taken the vows. This was on account of his sister.

"My sister," said, "is slowly starving to death. She can get no work. I think I ought to think first of her."

"I have decided to go to work to make money for her. But I cannot find any work. The sort of thing you do here is the only thing I know—all I am trained for."

But he did not get a job in the scientific institution. In many, although not all institutions, science has been cut harder than other activities.

A few industries have taken up more research, as a means of meeting depression problems. According to the Mellon Institute, some of these industries have profited by increasing science in the face of the depression. But not many of those in control of money have followed such a policy.

JUST THE THING!

The salesman had sold everything that was necessary for the furnishing of the lawyer's office, when he had a happy thought. "Oh, yes, I nearly forgot," he exclaimed. "I need a doorman!" "Fine! But bring me one that is well worn."
